

2001-02 La Salle Basketball

We Mean Business

La Salle's average class size is 20. No class is larger than 35. That means every one of your teachers will know you by name.

The freshman-to-sophomore retention rate for La Salle students is over 85%. That compares to a national average of around 60%.

La Salle is located in Philadelphia, the fifth largest city in the United States. Whether you seek cultural opportunities or historical sites, social opportunities or just the chance to meet people from all over the world, there are few places like Philly.

The New York Times, Barron's and Money Magazine all selected La Salle as one of the best buys in higher education. That selection was based on value received versus cost to the family.

Why we are the Explorers

La Salle University's nickname - The Explorers - was erroneously bestowed by a sports writer covering a La Salle football game on campus in the early 1930's. He thought that the school was named after the famed French explorer of North America. In reality, the school was named after St. John Baptist de La Salle, the French educator and founder of the Christian Brothers. Despite the error, the nickname has remained.

Following five years as an athletic academic counselor at the University of Iowa, Russell Mushinsky begins his first full year as La Salle's Director of Academic Support Services. In this capacity, Mushinsky is responsible for the coordination of academic support and counseling for all student-athletes, including a close monitoring of their academic progress as it relates to issues of graduation and NCAA eligibility.

Mushinsky began his career in Academic Support Services as an academic counseling assistant while pursuing his master's degree at Penn State University. Additionally, he served as an assistant tutor coordinator and as an assistant to the director.

A 1992 Penn State graduate with a degree in General Arts and Sciences, he earned his master's degree in Counselor Education from the University in 1995.

A four-time All-Conference selection with the Nittany Lion baseball program, Mushinsky was a two-time (1989, 1990) First Team All-Atlantic 10 pick and a 1990 Honorable Mention All-American. A native of Plains, Pa., he is single and resides in Elkins Park, Pa.

"We are very proud of the student-athletes who accomplished this tremendous feat. They have not only represented themselves and the school well on the field, they have also represented La Salle University in a positive manner with their outstanding academic success."

— La Salle Athletic Director Dr. Thomas Brennan

La Salle's Director of Academic Support Services Russell Mushinsky addresses academic issues with forward Draflo Larkai.

RUSSELL MUSHINSKY

on LaSalle Head Coach Billy Hahn

Coach Hahn has instilled in his players that their academic success is every bit as important as what they accomplish on the court. He has been adamant that they work as hard on their classroom assignments as they do on their basketball duties.

Russ comes from the University of Iowa where he worked with the basketball program, so he knows what it takes academically to compete and succeed. He brings a great, calming presence and communicates well with our players, emphasizing the importance of the academic side of things. He has the same philosophy as I do. We are here to help develop young people and to guide them and give them proper advice. We are very lucky to have Russ with us.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Emphasis on the Body

The Fitness Room is located in the lower level of the Hayman Center on the La Salle University campus and is available to all Explorer varsity student-athletes.

DAVE VANDYKE

Head Strength & Conditioning Coach

A recent graduate of Penn State University where he earned both his undergraduate degree (1998) and his master's in kinesiology (2000), Dave VanDyke is in his first season as the Explorers' head strength and conditioning coach. While pursuing his master's, he worked as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Nittany Lions' football team and served a stint this past summer with the Philadelphia Eagles. VanDyke also worked with the Texas A&M strength and conditioning program prior to enrolling in graduate school.

At La Salle, he has worked to expand the Explorers' workouts to a year-round schedule that incorporates all 23 sports. He also works in conjunction with the department's athletic training and sports medicine staff in assisting with the rehabilitation of athletic-related injuries.

La Salle University's Strength & Conditioning program is designed to maximize the student-athletes' performance. This is accomplished through the use of orthopedically safe, physiologically sound exercises and comprehensive total body training.

By systematically and progressively overloading the muscles trained and holding the student-athlete accountable for each repetition of each exercise of every workout, the program ensures consistent and marked strength gains.

The program maximizes the time spent in the weight room and on the court preparing for the competition by making the workouts purposeful. The focus is on teaching the student-athlete, through tactically sound preparation and technique, to produce a maximal effort on a consistent and improving basis.

HEAD COACH BILLY HAHN

on Dave VanDyke

I've been very fortunate to have Dave VanDyke come into the fold at La Salle University. He brings a tremendous amount of enthusiasm and respect for our players, which is an added value for what he is trying to accomplish. Dave just has a way of motivating kids to work hard in the weight room. His value to this program will be immeasurable over time.

The new program that the coaches and Dave VanDyke have brought in has helped us focus on the little things necessary to get in good playing shape.

PHILADELPHIA BIG FIVE

The phenomenon of Philadelphia basketball is something that people outside the area may never understand. A game between two of the Big 5 schools – La Salle, Pennsylvania, St. Joseph's, Temple, and Villanova – in the Palestra is a fascinating thing to watch. Year-in and year-out, games between these schools create a buzz that lasts all year long. Every year there seems to be an upset and a new hero.

Each of the five schools has had a team that ranked among the best nationally. La Salle saw its 1951-52 squad win the NIT Championship, which was the big title game of that era. The 1953-54 Explorers won the NCAA Championship. Two of the best teams in La Salle history were the 1968-69 Explorers who went 23-1, and the 1989-90 team that went 30-2.

The 1970-71 Penn Quakers went 28-1, losing in the NCAA East Regional final. St. Joseph's 1964-65 team, coached by ESPN's Jack Ramsay, finished 26-3. Temple's 1987-88 team with Mark Macon finished 32-2, while the 1984-85 Villanova Wildcats won the 1985 NCAA Championship in an improbable fashion.

To understand Philadelphia basketball, people need to understand the Palestra, on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania. Here are some people's thoughts on the Palestra and Philadelphia basketball...

Sports Illustrated writer Alexander Wolff – “Not Cameron, not Mac Court, not the Pit – the Palestra is my shrine. It's college hoops' Quaker meeting house, where an entire city, not just one school, comes together in brotherly fashion. I love the roof, the floor, the sight lines, the energy from the fans as they rub elbows with one another – and the soft pretzels you can buy as you exit into the winter night.”

Penn Quakers Head Coach Fran Dunphy – “The Palestra is arguably the finest college basketball facility in the country. When you think of the Palestra, you think of ‘aura, color, and excitement.’ I have been fortunate enough to experience the Palestra as a spectator, player and coach. If I had to play my last basketball game, that's the place I'd choose to play.”

Dallas-based writer Joe Rhoades, who in 1985 traveled the country watching basketball games – “This is a place with magic in the air. The Palestra has the acoustics of a big bass drum. It's a basketball echo chamber where every sound is amplified, where 100 people sound like a thousand, where a thousand sound like 10,000, and where 10,000 sound like nothing you've ever heard before. When the bleachers are full and the games are good, this is the best place to watch a college basketball game in America. It is the best basketball gymnasium in the country – by far.”

The legendary Palestra on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania has hosted more college basketball games than any facility in America. The arena has hosted over 50 NCAA Tournament games through the years.

Billy Hahn, who played an integral role in the outstanding success of the Maryland basketball program over the last 12 seasons, is in his first season as the Explorers' head coach. Hahn, who had been the Associate Head Coach of the Terps, became the 17th head coach in the 71-year history of the Explorers.

Entering this season with the Explorers, Hahn will be facing two schools that he previously coached against when he was the head coach at Ohio University. Hahn beat Drexel and Duquesne in his only meetings with the two schools.

Prior to being named as the Explorers' head coach, Hahn was a member of the Terps' staff since July 1989. He was the first assistant hired by Gary Williams after Williams was named head coach. Hahn was promoted to associate head coach in 1997. He served as one of Maryland's primary recruiters and was the Terps' chief opponent scout in addition to his on-the-floor coaching and administrative duties.

Hahn is one of only two players in Maryland basketball history to play and coach in the NCAA Tournament. He was also a part of the two winningest teams in school history. He played on Maryland's 1974-75 team that finished with a 24-5 record (82.8 winning percentage) and coached Maryland's 1998-99 team that won a school-record 28 games and had a 28-6 record (82.4 winning percentage).

His hard work and dedication as a recruiter have propelled him into the spotlight. Hahn was named one of the top 10 recruiters in the eastern United States by Eastern Basketball. Said EB: "The former head coach at Ohio University helped corral the Terps' 1996 senior class which was the backbone of Maryland's reversal of fortunes."

Having earned the reputation as one of the top recruiters in the nation, he helped guide the Terps to a school-record eight consecutive NCAA Tournaments, including a final four appearance in 2001. Maryland finished fourth or higher in the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season standings in eight consecutive seasons, and established school records for overall victories (28 in 1998-99) and ACC victories in a season (13 in 1998-99).

The Terps' roster of players during Hahn's career at Maryland reflects his recruiting prowess. His national and local recruiting knowledge helped the Terps sign the likes of Exree Hipp, Mario Lucas, Johnny Rhodes, Laron Profit, Terrell Stokes, Obinna Ekezie, Steve Francis, Juan Dixon, Lonny Baxter, Steve Blake, and Tahj Holden. He has also coached the following current or former NBA players: Sly Williams, Irv Chapman, Paul "Snoop" Graham, Dave Jamerson, Tony Massenburg, Walt Williams, Keith Booth, Joe Smith, and Steve Francis.

Prior to coaching at Maryland, Hahn was the head coach at Ohio University for three years. He compiled a 42-45 record and posted two winning regular seasons. He led Ohio to the Mid-American Conference Tournament championship game in 1988. He recruited and coached Philly native Paul Graham, the Mid-American Conference Player-of-the-Year in 1989.

Using this experience, Hahn showed his coaching expertise when in 1995 he filled in for Gary Williams, who missed four games with pneumonia. It was during this time that Hahn drew nationwide praise as he guided the Terps to a 2-2 record. He coached the Terps to a 94-92 victory at Duke, a 71-64 victory over Florida State in the first round of the ACC Tournament, and into overtime against No. 2-ranked North Carolina in the ACC tournament semifinals. Maryland's victory over Duke clinched a tie for the ACC regular-season championship.

Hahn began his college coaching career immediately following his playing days at Maryland. His first stop came at Morris Harvey College in West Virginia (1975-76). He moved on to Davidson College (1976-77) and the University of Rhode Island (1977-80) and served six years as an assistant at Ohio. He became the head coach at Ohio in 1986. At each of his first three coaching stops, he successfully recruited and coached future NBA draft choices.

To show how loyal Hahn is to his players, one of the first people he recruited out of high school was current assistant coach Roland Houston. Houston was playing at Philadelphia's Martin Luther King High School when Hahn was an assistant coach at the University of Rhode Island. Hahn successfully recruited Houston to play for the Rams and now has him as a part of his staff here at La Salle.

The coaching carousel works in strange ways sometimes, and this year is no exception. Hahn replaced Danny Nee as the head coach at Ohio University in the 1986-87 season. Hahn will get to face his former mentor at least twice each season, as Nee took over as the head coach of conference-foe Duquesne this year. With the Dukes in the same division as the Explorers, the two squads play twice during the regular season.

Hahn is a 1975 graduate of the University of Maryland. While an undergraduate, he was a three-year varsity letterwinner on three of the best basketball teams Maryland has fielded. He was a freshman in 1971-72 when the Terps won the National Invitation Tournament; he was a key reserve on the team that lost what is considered to be the greatest game in ACC history (Maryland's 103-100 overtime setback against NC State in 1974). He captained the team his senior year.

Coach Hahn will look to bring his up-tempo style to La Salle. He will have the team play a fast-paced offense and a nose-to-nose pressing defense. With this, he hopes to return La Salle to the National prominence it had in the early 1990s.

Hahn and his wife, Kathi, have been married since 1976. They have two children – a son, Matthew, and a daughter, Ashley.

Q - What do you wish to bring to La Salle as its new head coach?

A - My vision is to create a mindset with La Salle basketball, that we will try to compete and play with a lot of emotion every night. I've always believed that if you work hard and do things the right way, the scoreboard will take care of itself. I want to create a respect for the game of basketball and for our opponents, but I want our players to understand it's about La Salle. I want them to set a standard for La Salle. I want to have our players come out and compete and play with a passion in every game and every practice.

Q - When you were hired, you had your entire family at the press conference. How important is your family?

A - Family is tremendously important to me. I grew up on a farm in Indiana with a very tight family, and the way I was raised, it was about being there for one another. That has carried over into my life, now that I am married. I was raised with a lot of love in my family, and I try to show that with my wife and two children. There is a lot of love in the Hahn family and hopefully I can carry that over to the team and they can see how family is important. I feel that it is important that we do things together, like having the team over for cookouts. I am going to try to make it a family atmosphere; it is important to me that everybody is close. The players need to see that if one person does something that is not up to the standards of the family, then that hurts us as a family.

Q - How will you use this family atmosphere to your advantage in recruiting players?

A - I think that it carries over. Once the players grasp the family atmosphere, it will be easy for recruits to see that we are a tight-knit bunch. The family feeling is not something you have to sell, that comes natural. I think that when a recruit and his parents come in for a weekend, they will be able to feel that. There's that sense of feeling that you care for each other. They'll see that I care about all my players, whether it's the first or last. They understand that I am there for them in tough times. You develop a feeling about that and everybody can get that feeling.

Q - If you had a vision of the way your team plays, what would it be?

A - I want our team to develop a sense in our opponents that when they see La Salle on the schedule, whether it's home or away, they are going to say, "Wow, we're going to have to compete tonight." I want teams to think that it is not fun playing against us. We are going to create some pressure and play with a lot of passion. I want our opponents thinking they will be in for a long night when they play us. I want to create that vision in our team, that no matter who we're playing, we are going to go out and compete and create havoc every night.

Q - You have the reputation of being a tenacious recruiter. What does it take to be a great recruiter?

A - I think that anyone in the business who is successful starts with a tremendous work ethic. You have to be relentless and stay on top of things. As you recruit a young man, you develop a trust between yourself and that player. You want that player to feel that trust and see that everyone in the program trusts the coach. I want to develop that trust and develop the feeling that, hey, if I need to speak to someone when I have a problem, I can relate to him and I know that he will listen. I tell the players I recruit that I was a player too, so I can relate to the things they are going through. I was a player and understand what it is to be a player. I think that is an advantage to me. I have feelings towards how the players are feeling. I tell players I'll be there when they're down and that all comes back to trust.

Q - When a player you recruit comes into your program, what is your responsibility to that player socially and athletically? How do you view this?

A - Well, it's amazing that when you get a recruit, you're coaching that person the game of basketball as well as coaching him through those few years of his life. You try to help develop him as a man, and you hope that you can develop him the right way as a basketball player and a person. You show him how to make the right decisions and how important academics are. He has to get his degree. Showing someone how to do things the right way, that's all part of the process. Not only are you trying to help him become a better basketball player, but you're trying to help him become a better person.

Q - You've coached with a lot of great coaches; how has that affected your vision on how the game should be played?

A - I've been blessed to work with some great bosses. The first one, Rich Meckfessel, was the one who taught me how important it was to pay attention to detail. I was very young in my career then, so that helped me. Then I was with Jack Kraft at Rhode Island. He was the old, wise man, sort of the grandfather type. He taught me about patience, that things will be okay in the long run if you just stick to your plan. He showed me that if you have patience, good things will happen. Then I was with Danny Nee at Ohio, and he showed me how hard you have to work and grind it out, and roll up your sleeves and go to work every day. He showed me how to be relentless and stay with my dream. Then Gary Williams showed me that you need to compete every day at practice, at every game, and every day off the floor. He showed me that if there was something you felt your program needed, then you fight for it until you get it. So I have learned from everybody. They have all influenced me in my coaching career, and hopefully with the combination of all of them, I can put those ingredients together and now have something to believe in. They all have been a big, big part of my philosophy and I can't thank them enough for what they have given me.

Q - What did your experience at Maryland give you as you come to La Salle?

A - When I went to Maryland with Coach Williams, it was similar to my coming to La Salle. Maryland had been very successful, and was in a down period. Something was missing when we got there; the fans weren't into it as much. Then we started to build that program step-by-step. We needed to have patience because we didn't start getting good until about our fourth year. You just have to understand and believe in what you're doing, and if you're doing things solid and in the right way, good things will happen. At Maryland it was a building process; understanding that will also help me here.

Q - What do you want to add to the history of La Salle basketball?

A - The basketball history of La Salle reeks of success. It's great just to be in this program, following all the winning coaches, teams, and players that have been here before me. I want to try to make La Salle, the administration, alumni, family and friends proud of the product we put on the floor. I want to attract the kind of people that La Salle would be proud of, not only as basketball players, but as people. If my staff and I can do that, the scoreboard will take care of itself. You just need to worry about attracting the best players you can, and you need to worry about working hard, doing things the right way, and success will happen.

Hahn fields questions from the media after being named the 17th head coach in La Salle men's basketball history.

What some of Hahn's former players say about the coach...

"Coach Hahn is the main reason I went to Maryland. I met him when I was a little kid at camp and he always remembered me. He helped me through some really tough times and when I got to Maryland he treated me like a son. Coach Hahn prepared me for the next level. There is no doubt in my mind that part of the reason I've been so successful in the NBA is because of the hours he put in working with me on my handle and jump shot. He helped me learn how to become a more explosive and efficient player."

— Steve Francis, NBA Rookie of the Year, Houston Rockets

"I was always ready to play at Maryland and part of the reason was because Coach Hahn had us fired up. He is just a great coach and leader. I've never been around a guy with as much energy and passion for the game of basketball."

— Joe Smith, #1 NBA Draft Pick, Detroit Pistons

"The thing that impressed me most about Coach Hahn was his creativity as a coach. It was mainly his idea to give me some minutes at the point guard spot while I was at Maryland and that allowed me to take advantage of smaller defenders. When I had bigger guys on me he helped design ways to isolate me on the wing or rub me off screens for scoring opportunities."

— Walt Williams, NBA Lottery Pick, Houston Rockets

"Coach Hahn is a motivator who brings out the best in his players. He is great at utilizing our strengths and eliminating our weaknesses. His basketball IQ is unbelievable. He worked with me on my individual moves and helped me find new ways to score!"

— Juan Dixon, All-American, 1st Team All-ACC

"Coach Hahn believed in me when no one else did. When I got to Maryland I was overweight and out of shape. No one thought I could play in the ACC, but he had the confidence in my skills and desire. He taught me how to play hard and improve my shot and post moves. He is a tremendous motivator!"

— Obinna Ekezie, Dallas Mavericks

ASSISTANT COACH - ROLAND HOUSTON

Roland Houston, who enters his third season with the Explorers, knew that the distance between Martin Luther King High in Philadelphia to La Salle University was approximately five miles. Yet it took Roland Houston 21 years to make the trip.

Houston, who joined the Explorer staff in mid-September of 1999, has done quite a bit of traveling since his high school graduation in 1978. That travel took him to the University of Rhode Island, and such overseas basketball stops as Nice, LeMans and Limoges, all in France, then on to Spain, Argentina and Israel.

Among his most memorable visits were to Limoges, where he caught up with an old friend and rival, former La Salle and West Catholic High great Michael Brooks, who still maintains residence in France. "Michael and I had played against each other and with each other a good while back in Philadelphia and it was great being with him and competing with and against him," Houston said.

When he enrolled at Rhode Island, his coach was Jack Kraft, who had coached Villanova to 11 post-season tournaments before heading to New England. "I was the first player coach Kraft took from Philadelphia," Houston said, "and I still try to stay in touch with him since he's not too far away down in Stone Harbor (New Jersey)."

At Rhode Island, in what was then called the Eastern 8 before becoming the Atlantic 10, Houston played four seasons, started for three and was captain in his senior year. Houston ironically enough was recruited to the University of Rhode Island by current Explorer head coach Billy Hahn, who was an assistant with the Rams at the time. All of Houston's time wasn't taken up with hoops. As a communications major, he wrote for the school newspaper, produced jazz shows and did an occasional stint on the campus station.

While playing professionally overseas, he also got a taste of coaching and the business side of basketball, preparing him for life after playing. He became involved in several ventures, including acting as a consultant for NBA players and would-be NBA players and always had his eyes on getting into coaching full tilt.

Born in South Philadelphia, Houston transferred from Southern High to Martin Luther King early in his career and continued on his journey which has now taken him to La Salle University. Coach Houston and his wife Lisa live in Cherry Hill, New Jersey with their daughter Zuri.

Coach Hahn on Houston: Roland was the first young man that I recruited to the University of Rhode Island out of the city of Philadelphia. Over the years, our relationship has grown, both as a friend and a coach. It is amazing to me that many years later, I would have the chance to work side-by-side with him. It is a big asset to have such a good player from the city of Philadelphia on the staff.

ASSISTANT COACH - JOE LOMBARDI

Joe Lombardi begins his career with the Explorers after coaching at St. Bonaventure from 1992-2001. Lombardi helped orchestrate a dramatic reversal in the fortunes of St. Bonaventure basketball before coming to La Salle. Lombardi is in his first season at La Salle and his 20th as a college coach.

The Bonnies' success in 1999-2000 was perhaps the highlight of Lombardi's career. With his help, the Bonnies went 21-10, advanced to the NCAA Tournament, reached the championship game of the Atlantic 10 Tournament and set a school record for conference wins with 11.

Lombardi also has been a part of two NIT teams at St. Bonaventure, 1997-98 and 1994-95. Helping lay the foundation for St. Bonaventure's success, Lombardi has been involved in the recruitment of such Atlantic 10 All-League players as Caswell Cyrus, Peter Van Paassen, J.R. Bremer and Kevin Houston. Time and time again, Lombardi has tirelessly scoured the world in search of players who would be the right fit for St. Bonaventure.

As an assistant to Jim Baron at St. Francis (PA) from 1987-92, Lombardi was a major contributor to the success the Red Flash enjoyed. During his tenure, St. Francis went 74-71 overall, including records of 17-10 in 1989-90 and 24-8 in 1990-91. The latter season marked a Northeast Conference championship and the school's first-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament.

The native of Sharon, Pa., served as assistant coach at St. Francis from 1987-89 before being promoted to assistant head coach in 1989. He was involved in all aspects of the Red Flash program, including administrative responsibilities and scheduling.

Lombardi is a 1981 honors graduate of Youngstown State University, where he received his degree in education. He was a two-year letterman and team captain from 1979-81. He began his basketball coaching career as a graduate assistant at Ohio University in 1981-82.

Lombardi returned to Youngstown State as a restricted earnings coach during the 1982-83 season before being named an assistant coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, serving there from 1984-87.

He was a member of the coaching staff of the Panamanian National Team in 1992, which participated in the Olympic Qualifying Tournament of the Americas against the United States "Dream Team."

Coach Lombardi and his wife Janet have three children - Dominic, Alyssa and Dante. They reside in Blue Bell, PA.

Coach Hahn on Lombardi: He adds tremendous experience to our staff. Every step he has taken in coaching, success has followed. I am very fortunate to have him on my staff.

ASSISTANT COACH - JOHN GALLAGHER

John Gallagher is now in his third season as an assistant coach with the Explorers. When he was hired prior to the 1999-2000 season, Gallagher, at the ripe age of 22, was the youngest assistant coach in Division I basketball. Despite this, he brought plenty of experience with him.

Gallagher served as the Director of the Main Line Basketball team for the Sonny Hill League for two years and coached in the high school league. He was the creator and founder of the Delaware Valley Elite AAU Program.

In his playing days, Gallagher was a guard at St. Joseph's University for three years. He was a member of their magical Sweet 16 run in the NCAA Tournament and played against top-ranked Kentucky in the tourney. John was also a starter for three years at Cardinal O'Hara High School where he earned All-City Honorable Mention and All-Catholic Honors his senior season.

With his addition to the La Salle staff, Gallagher became the first of a basketball-wealthy family to enter the coaching ranks. His sister Ann was the point guard for the Explorers' Women's Basketball team from 1993-97 and another sister Joan was a four-year starter from 1992-96 at Boston College. His eldest sister Kathleen is a professor in the History Department here at La Salle.

Coach Hahn on Gallagher: John is a young, exciting coach, who brings a tremendous passion to his coaching every day. He has a bright future ahead of him in coaching.

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS - MATT HAHN

Matt Hahn is in his first season as a coach with the Explorers. He played at the University of Maryland from 1996-2000.

Hahn was elected captain of the 1999-00 Terrapins. He was a member of four NCAA tournament teams and two "Sweet 16" teams. After joining the team as a walk-on, Hahn earned a scholarship.

While at Maryland, he was named as a four-time member of the Atlantic Coast Conference All-Academic Honor Roll and to the Omicron Delta Kappa National Leader and Honor Society. He was a member of the University of Maryland Student Athlete Council. Hahn also developed his skills as an intern in the WUSA Sports Department, as an anchor with the Terp TV News Department, and as a reporter and play-by-play man for the WMUC Sports Department.

Along with being named to the Atlantic Coast Conference academic honor roll, Hahn was named to the University of Maryland Athletic Directors Honor Roll four times, earned the Maryland President's Cup Award, and WBAL Academic Award. While playing at Maryland, Matt was a roommate of current Houston Rockets' star Steve Francis.

Coach Billy Hahn on Matt Hahn: Obviously I know him well. It is great to be able to work side-by-side with him in coaching, after having coached him as a player. He communicates well with parents, players, and the administration for someone his age. He has bright, new ideas each day and that is a plus to the staff.

The 2001-02 basketball season is upon us, and with it has come many changes to the landscape of La Salle basketball and the Atlantic 10 Conference. The Explorers have a new leader, two new assistant coaches and five new players. As for the conference, there is a new team in the league – Richmond – as well as seven new men's basketball coaches.

One of those new faces is leading the Explorers – Billy Hahn. He comes to La Salle from the University of Maryland, where he spent 12 years as Gary Williams' right-hand man. The two men helped lead the Terps to eight consecutive NCAA tournament appearances, including the 2001 Final Four.

Now at the helm of the Explorers, Hahn helped build an ambitious schedule that has the Explorers playing six games against NCAA tournament teams and potentially four games versus NIT teams from last season.

Hahn brings a new energy to the team. He will have the Explorers playing a more up-tempo style with a pressing defense.

Who's Gone

La Salle loses four players from last season, including its second-leading scorer and its top rebounder and top shot blocker. The four players are center Garrett Bragg, forward James Jordan, forward Victor Thomas, and forward/center Anwar Wilson.

Bragg had an injury-filled career and finished his senior campaign averaging 3.9 points and 3.4 rebounds. Jordan developed into a steady player who was a strong rebounder. He averaged 2.4 points and 3.7 rebounds for his career.

Thomas was the most accomplished of the four exiting players. He finished his career with 1,765 points, which ranks him 10th in school history. Thomas was also the Explorers' leading rebounder in each of the last two seasons. His rebounding average increased each season.

Wilson left after four years, but he did have one year of eligibility left. Wilson, one of the top shot-blockers in the Atlantic 10, graduated and enrolled in medical school. Wilson finished with 91 blocked shots, which ranks him fourth in school history. After red-shirting his freshman year, he led the team in each of the last two years, recording 42 and 46 blocked shots respectively.

The Returnees

Coach Hahn will have two outstanding seniors leading him into his first campaign with La Salle. Forward Rasual Butler and guard Julian Blanks have been significant players for each of their three seasons.

Butler enters his senior campaign as an All-America candidate and 17th on the school's all-time scoring list. Coming into the season, Butler is one of the top returning scorers in the Atlantic 10 and the nation. He Rasual Butler has led the Explorers in scoring in each of the last two seasons and ranks 17th all-time.

Blanks enters his final season with 406 career assists, which ranks him seventh on the school's all-time list. His 4.8 assists per game rank fifth best in school history. Blanks posted 15 assists in the Explorers' win over Rhode Island last season. This was a career-high and came just three shy of the conference record. He comes into his senior campaign having increased his assists per game and assist-to-turnover ratio each season. Blanks has had more assists than turnovers in each of his three seasons.

Blanks has also become more offensive, raising his scoring average from 7.3 as a freshman to 12.2 as a junior. In 2000-01, he scored in double-digits in 18 games and is on pace to become the 42nd 1000-point scorer in school history.

He is also climbing the record charts in steals, currently with 122. He is 12th in school history in this category, having led the team in each of his three seasons with the Explorers. He had 17 multiple-steal games last season.

Blanks has also shown durability, playing the entire game 32 times in his career, including 11 times last season, and he has started all 85 games the Explorers have played in his three seasons.

Along with these two outstanding players, La Salle also returns juniors Dwayne Jones and John Clark, as well as sophomores Joel Jean-Baptiste and Rasheed Quadri.

Jones became a productive player off the bench last season. He appeared in 21 of 29 games. He scored a career-high eight points in the Explorers' home victory over Rhode Island. Jones played a season-high 23 minutes in the Explorers' loss at Rhode Island.

Clark, a walk-on, appeared in 12 games. He scored six points total and played a season-high three minutes in a loss to Xavier.

Baptiste played in 17 games, including the first 14 of the season. He missed the final eight games of the season due to injury. Baptiste played in double-figure minutes four times. He will be in the mix for the starting position at either power forward or center.

Quadri started nine of the 25 games in which he played. Known for his defensive abilities, Quadri swiped 13 steals on the season and also blocked four shots. In the nine games that he started, Quadri averaged 31.0 minutes. He finished the season strong, scoring nine points in the Explorers' wins over nationally-ranked St. Joseph's and Fordham, in the Opening Round of the Atlantic 10 Tournament.

The Newcomers

When talking about the newcomers, you have to start at the top. Head Coach Billy Hahn brings his recruiting expertise to La Salle and has brought with him two new coaches. Joe Lombardi comes to La Salle from St. Bonaventure, where he had been an assistant coach for nine seasons. Hahn also brings his son Matt along with him. Matt, who played for four seasons at the University of Maryland, is no stranger to judging talented basketball players.

He roomed with one of Maryland's top players, Steve Francis, while playing for the Terps.

Along with the new coaches, the Explorers have five new faces this season. One was with the team last season, Reggie Okosa. Okosa sat out last season due to NCAA transfer guidelines, having transferred to La Salle from Virginia Commonwealth. In his sophomore campaign at VCU, Okosa averaged 6.7 points and 6.6 rebounds per game. He also posted 24 blocks and 24 steals while averaging 21.1 minutes. He posted a career-high 14 points versus North Carolina A&T and a career-best 13 rebounds versus North Carolina-Wilmington.

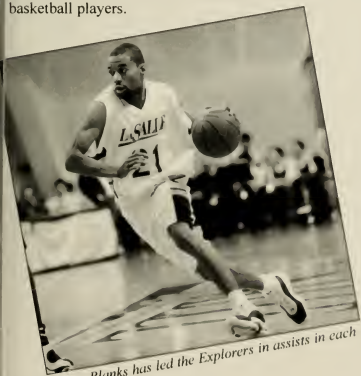

The other four newcomers are Mike Cleaves, Jeff Farmer, Dzaflor Larkai, and walk-on Kurt Simmons. Cleaves averaged 16 points and six assists per game in his senior season at Notre Dame Prep in Fitchburg, MA. Cleaves was the Most Valuable Player in the Hoopfest AAU Tournament in Providence, RI while playing at Notre Dame. He had previously attended John F. Kennedy High School in Paterson, NJ. While at Kennedy, Cleaves averaged 26 points and eight assists per game. He was named All-State and All-League in his final season at Kennedy. He also was the Most Valuable Player of the New Jersey North vs. South All-Star Game and was the Slam Dunk Champion at the same event.

Farmer averaged 24.5 points, 12 rebounds, seven assists, and three blocks per game last season at The Morgan School in Clinton, CT. He was a First Team All-State and All-Conference player in both his junior and senior seasons. In his senior campaign, Farmer was the Most Valuable Player of the Shoreline Conference.

Larkai averaged 12 points, nine rebounds, and four blocks per game at The Guntery School in Washington Depot, CT. He started every game for the team last season, and also played football and was a member of the rowing team. While he was playing in England, Larkai played for three years on the Brixton Topcats and was also a member of the 1999 World Youth Games team that won the tournament.

The Schedule

ON COACH HAHN: He has brought a new intensity and energy that will help this program tremendously. The work that we did in the off-season has brought the team together and made us stronger individuals.

2000-01 -- Appeared in 12 games for a total of 16 minutes... Scored six points total, including two against Drexel, Xavier, and Fordham... Played a season-high three minutes in a loss to Xavier... Also grabbed three rebounds, handed out two assists, and had one steal in his 12 appearances... Shot 2-of-5 from the field on the season and knocked down both free throws he attempted... Prior to La Salle -- Clark joined the team after sitting out the 1999-2000 per NCAA transfer rules... He transferred from Catholic University... In his high school days at Archbishop Carroll, he was a two-time All-Catholic performer... In his senior year he averaged 15.0 points and 10.0 rebounds per game and was named the Bristol Tournament, Archbishop Carroll Tournament, and team Most Valuable Player.

WHY LA SALLE: I transferred to La Salle because I wanted to go to a better business school, plus I wanted to see my little brother grow up... When I left Catholic, I knew I could come to La Salle and join the team as a walk-on... I also came to La Salle to get a solid education... I would like to go into the business community and the MIS and marketing programs in which I am enrolled in at La Salle will help me achieve that goal.

ON COACH HAHN: The two biggest things Coach has brought to this year's squad are discipline and confidence... The positive energy that he shows will help make us a better team and better individuals.

Okosa is a transfer from Virginia Commonwealth who will be eligible for the 2001-02 season... He will be expected to make an immediate impact in the middle... 1999-2000 - During his second campaign at VCU, Okosa averaged 6.7 points and 6.6 rebounds per game... He also posted 24 blocks and 24 steals while averaging 21.1 minutes... In conference games, he averaged 6.2 points and 7.1 rebounds... Posted career-high 14 points versus North Carolina A&T and a career-best 13 rebounds versus North Carolina-Wilmington... 1998-99 - Appeared in all 31 games for the Rams and started in six of those games... Averaged 4.2 points and 5.3 rebounds in just under 18 minutes per game... Recorded three double-doubles and four double-digit rebounding games... Recorded a career-high 17 points versus Old Dominion... Prior to College - Okosa averaged 21 points, 10 rebounds, and five blocks as he was named Gatorade Player of the Year in the state of Delaware in his senior season in high school... Was named First Team All-Conference and All-State in his senior campaign... Named one of the top 15 centers by Hoop Scoop magazine.

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE LA SALLE: I chose La Salle so that I could play in a better league and closer to home... The competition at Virginia Commonwealth was good, but I wanted to play in a league with stronger competition and the talent level in the Atlantic 10 is much higher than it is in the Colonial Athletic Association... La Salle is also about 30 to 35 minutes from my home in Delaware... My family is important to me and playing closer to home will give them a chance to see me play more often.

ON COACH HAHN: First and foremost, he has brought a lot of enthusiasm and hope... Many people would get excited about the season early on in the past few seasons, but after the first five or six games, that would die down... Coach Hahn has such an energy level and a drive that he'll make sure that doesn't happen.

2000-01 -- Started nine of the 25 games in which he played... Known for his defensive abilities, Quadri swiped 13 steals on the season and also blocked four shots... In the nine games that he started, Quadri averaged 31.0 minutes per contest... Finished the season strong, scoring nine points in the Explorers' wins over nationally-ranked St. Joseph's and Fordham, in the Opening Round of the Atlantic 10 Tournament... In these two games, he combined to shoot 5-of-7, including 4-of-6 from three-point range... Twice grabbed a season-high six rebounds... Grabbed a season-best three steals against Northwestern... Twice handed out four assists in a game... Prior to La Salle: Quadri helped lead his Boston English High team to back-to-back city championship games and to the Massachusetts state championship game in his senior season... English was the number one team in eastern Massachusetts and was state runner-up... In 1999-2000, English won both the City Championship and was crowned Eastern Massachusetts champion... He was honored as all-Boston South while averaging just under 12 points off the bench... Played on a talented team that has two other players playing in Division I schools... He was a two-time all-city selection and one of three 1000-point scorers on the team.

EXPECTATIONS: My aim is to carry over into this season the positive things that I was able to contribute towards the end of last season... My confidence was on the rise and I hope to carry that over to this season and help make this team successful.

High School: Farmer averaged 24.5 points, 12 rebounds, seven assists, and three blocks per game last season at The Morgan School... He was a First Team All-State and All-Conference player in both his junior and senior seasons... In his senior campaign, Farmer was the Most Valuable Player of the Shoreline Conference.

WHY LA SALLE: I chose it because of the coaching staff. I felt very comfortable around them... They are a very tight bunch and I can tell that they will bring that family-type atmosphere to the program.

MY GOALS: I don't want to come in and be a typical freshman... I want to be able to go in and contribute by knocking down some shots and playing strong defense.

ATLANTIC 10: Other than the coaches, that is the top reason I chose La Salle... There were some other schools back home that wanted me, but I wanted to play against strong competition so that I become a better player.

While at Kennedy, Cleaves averaged 26 points and eight assists per game... He was named All-State and All-League in his final season at Kennedy... He also was the Most Valuable Player of the New Jersey North vs. South All-Star game and was the Slam Dunk Champion at the same event.

GOALS: My goal is to come in and contribute as soon as possible... I will try to electrify the crowd with my abilities on both ends of the court.

HIGH SCHOOL: Larkai averaged 12 points, nine rebounds, and four blocks per game at The Gunnery School... Larkai started every game for the team last season... He also played football and was a member of the rowing team... While he was playing in England, Larkai played for three years on the Brixton Topcats and was also a member of the 1999 World Youth Games team that won the tournament.

EXPECTATIONS: My goal is to help the team win... I will do whatever the coaches ask of me and will drive myself to succeed.

ATLANTIC 10: The level of competition is so high in this league, why wouldn't someone want to play here?

Thornton will sit out this season after transferring from Arcadia University (formerly Beaver College)... High School: Thornton was an All-Catholic performer at Monsignor Bonner... His older sister Michelle was a star player with the Villanova women's basketball team in the early 1990s.

WHY LA SALLE: I chose La Salle for the education and a chance in the Atlantic 10 Conference... Education comes first for me, and I knew that La Salle would push me to be a better student and person.

WHY LA SALLE: I came to La Salle for the great academics and the fact that it was close enough to home but not too close.

WHY BASKETBALL: I always entertained the notion of walking-on to the basketball team, and then it happened. I was playing in the gym one day when Coach Lombardi asked me my name and recommended that I come by to visit Coach Hahn. Coach Hahn asked me to work out with the team, and then he invited me onto the squad after workouts and the recommendations of other players.

ACADEMIC GOALS: I would like to attend graduate school for accounting to become a CPA, and eventually, I'd like to attend law school.

BASKETBALL GOALS: This year, I hope to just help out the team in whatever way possible. I will continue to work on my game and hopefully earn more playing time next season.

PLAYING IN THE ATLANTIC 10: It's kind of weird actually being in uniform now because last year I was at every game. It's a whole lot different being in the stands and seeing some of these big names on TV... now I am on the floor playing against these guys, and it's a little overwhelming.

The 2000-01 Explorers entered their season knowing they had three of the top players in the Atlantic 10 Conference, in Rasual Butler, Victor Thomas and Julian Blanks. The challenge was to find another scoring option for the offense.

Butler entered the season as a nominee for the John Wooden Award, given to the top collegiate player in the nation. Though he did not win the award, Butler showed that he belonged as one of the top players in the nation. Butler led the team in scoring for the second straight season, this year finishing with a 22.1 points-per-game average. He led or tied for the team lead in scoring 16 times. Butler was named to the First Team All-Atlantic 10 after having been named Second Team after his sophomore season.

To complement Butler, Thomas continued to elevate his game, as he raised his scoring average to 19.7 points per game. He led or tied for the team lead in scoring 11 times. Thomas also led the team in rebounding for the second consecutive season, this time averaging 6.8 boards per game. He led the team in rebounding nine times and finished ninth in the Atlantic 10 in rebounding.

Delivering the ball to these two high powered scorers was Julian Blanks, who had more assists than turnovers for the third straight season. Blanks upped his scoring average, rebounding average, and assists per game average for the third consecutive season as well. He averaged 6.0 assists per game, which placed him second in the Atlantic 10. Blanks has upped his assists for 97 as a freshman, to 135 as a sophomore, and to 174 last season. In doing so, he has climbed to seventh all-time at La Salle in career assists.

The trouble the Explorers had throughout the season was finding another consistent scorer. The next leading scorer was Garrett Bragg, who averaged 6.2 points per game, but he missed five games due to injury. As the season unfolded, Thomas or Butler led the team in scoring in the first 19 games of the season. One time during that string, Blanks tied Butler for the team high. These three led the team in scoring in every game last season.

In the season-opening trip to the Sooner Invitational, the Explorers defeated UNC-Wilmington in the opener, before falling to Oklahoma in the Championship game. The Explorers had a hard fought game, then fell to a late run. The Explorers were done-in by the Sooners bench, as the Sooners bench out-scored the Explorers bench 35-3.

After splitting the next six games, the Explorers headed to the Christmas break with a 4-4 record. After defeating Drexel, the squad headed to California to play in the Golden Bear Classic. After beating Lafayette in overtime, the Explorers struggled against the Bears. La Salle saw its five starters - Blanks, Butler, Thomas, Anwar Wilson, and Garrett Bragg - play a majority of the minutes in the two games. These five also scored all but two of the points in the team accumulated in the two games.

Entering the conference schedule at 5-5, the Explorers played four of the first seven games on the road and this contributed to their losing six of the first seven conference games. After a heartbreaking loss at Rhode Island, in double overtime, La Salle rebounded by winning three of the next four. After witnessing Butler pour in a career-high 39 points in the Explorers loss at Rhode Island, Thomas responded 10 days later as La Salle defeated the Rams at the Tom Gola Arena. Thomas lit up Rhode Island for a career-high 35 points. He had plenty of help that day as Butler added 23 points and Wilson cleared a career-best 16 rebounds. Not to be outdone on the day, Blanks dished out 15 assists, a career-high that came within three of the school record.

After this, the Explorers dropped four straight before closing out the regular season at home against nationally-ranked St. Joseph's. In a classic Big Five/Atlantic 10 game, the Explorers pulled out a one-point win, 91-90, despite a remarkable 18 points in the final minute by the Hawks Marvin O'Connor. The Explorers balance on this night helped lead them to victory. Thomas scored 26, with Butler adding 25, and Blanks chipping in with 20.

Following this emotional win, it was onto the Atlantic 10 Tournament to face Fordham. With its victory over the Rams, La Salle accomplished a rare hat trick, as it defeated Fordham for the third time on the season. After this win, the Explorers faced St. Joseph's for the second time in five days and the third straight season in the Atlantic 10 Tournament. The Hawks prevailed 82-74 in a hard fought contest. With the loss, four Explorers - Victor Thomas, Garrett Bragg, James Jordan, and Anwar Wilson - played their last game with La Salle.

La Salle travelled to Madison Square Garden for the first time since February of 1991, to take on the eighth-ranked Seton Hall Pirates.

The Pirates held La Salle to a season-low 27.2% shooting from the field en route to a 63-54 win over the Explorers.

Seton Hall was led by Philadelphia-native Eddie Griffin, who scored 20 points, grabbed eight rebounds, and blocked seven shots.

The Explorers were led by Rasual Butler's 13 points and 14 rebounds. Joining Butler in double figures were Victor Thomas and James Jordan, who each scored 10 points.

La Salle's poor shooting is what did them in, as they out-rebounded and had fewer turnovers than the Pirates. The 27.2% shooting from the field was the Explorers lowest percentage of the season. They had been shooting 48% from the field entering the game.

La Salle played its first game in the city limits traveling down to the Palestra to square off against Pennsylvania. The Explorers defense shut down the Quakers in the last minute of the game as La Salle scored the final 10 points to take a 61-59 victory.

The Explorers were led by the dynamic duo of Victor Thomas and Rasual Butler who combined for 47 points and 18 rebounds. In a game of runs, Butler's personal run of 16-5 over the Quakers kept the Explorers in the game. He hit a three-pointer at the buzzer of the first half and scored the first 13 Explorer points of the second half. This run turned a 23-17 deficit into a 33-28 lead early in the second half.

The Quakers put together a 9-0 run to regain the lead with 7:48 remaining. Penn stretched its lead to eight points with 1:17 remaining, before the Explorers ended the game on a 10-0 run. The Explorers won the game at the free throw line where they shot 9-of-12 and the Quakers were 9-of-21.

La Salle played its first home game of the season, defeating Northwestern 62-44. Junior Rasual Butler led the Explorers with 26 points and 11 rebounds. He was aided by senior Victor Thomas' 13 points and junior Julian Blanks' 10 points and eight assists.

The Explorers shot 58.3 % for the game, but turned the ball over a season-high 19 times. La Salle held the Wildcats to 30.9% shooting from the field and forced 13 turnovers.

For the second time in the three games, the Explorers out-rebounded their opponent, this time out-rebounding the Wildcats 33-22.

The Explorers shot the ball well from all over the court in this game, shooting 58.3% from the field, 54.5% from three-point range, and 77.8% from the foul line. Each of these was a season-high for the team.

La Salle played its third straight game in the city of Philadelphia losing 79-72 to Villanova at the Palestra. The Explorers fell in large part because of the first half play of Villanova's Michael Bradley - 16 points and 10 rebounds at half - and Jermaine Medley's late-game shooting.

Medley finished with 14 points, but nailed two three-pointers in the final two minutes as the Wildcats rallied from 10 down to win the game.

The Explorers received a career performance from Julian Blanks, who poured in a career-high 24 points, while handing out five assists. Junior Rasual Butler also scored 24 points and grabbed eight rebounds. Senior Victor Thomas pitched in 18 points and 10 rebounds, but was held without a field goal in the second half. Butler on the other hand scored 17 of his points in the second half, shooting 7-of-13 from the field.

La Salle received a balanced effort with four players in double figures as the Explorers defeated Drexel 74-56. Junior Rasual Butler scored a game-high 24 points and pulled down a team-best eight rebounds.

Senior Victor Thomas added 15 points and five rebounds. Senior Garrett Bragg and junior Julian Blanks each scored 11 points, while Blanks also handed out 10 assists.

La Salle pulled away from the Dragons with an 18-2 run to give them a 38-18 halftime lead. This lead stretched to 30 at one point, before the Dragons closed the gap.

One key element to the game was the turnover story that saw the Dragons turn the ball over 20 times, while La Salle turned it over just 10 times. The Explorers also held Drexel to 5-of-22 shooting from three-point range.

After a season of celebrating 25 years of Atlantic 10 Conference excellence, it is now time to start another chapter as the Atlantic 10 boldly embarks on the next 25 years.

The institutions which today make up the Atlantic 10 Conference are committed to providing a broad-based, competitive athletic environment without sacrificing the high ideals of scholarship and sportsmanship. The University of Dayton, Duquesne University, Fordham University, The George Washington University, La Salle University, University of Massachusetts, University of Rhode Island, University of Richmond, St. Bonaventure University, Saint Joseph's University, Temple University, and Xavier University each offer a rich blend of proud academic and athletic traditions to form an impressive athletic alliance.

If a conference bases its success on the achievements of its student-athletes and teams, then the 2000-01 season was a success. That success was highlighted by three men's and two women's basketball teams advancing to the NCAA Tournament. For the men, Saint Joseph's, Temple, and Xavier earned bids, with the Owls advancing to the Regional Final; for the women, George Washington and Xavier went to the tournament, with the Musketeers also advancing to the Regional Final. In addition, the Dayton and St. Bonaventure men advanced to the NIT, with Dayton reaching the quarterfinals, and the Temple women qualified for the WNIT. Other teams to qualify for NCAA Tournaments last year include the George Washington women's gymnastics and women's volleyball teams; the Massachusetts field hockey, women's gymnastics, softball, and women's tennis teams; the Rhode Island women's gymnastics, men's golf, men's soccer teams; the St. Bonaventure men's tennis team; the Temple baseball and women's lacrosse teams; and the Xavier men's golf and women's soccer teams.

In all, 300 teams have represented the Atlantic 10 Conference in postseason play since the 1976-77 season.

Individual highlights include UMass swimmer Billy Brown, Saint Joseph's cross country runner Karl Savage and cross country and outdoor track & field performer Christine Kane participating in the NCAA Tournament; Atlantic 10 men's basketball Player of the Year David West earning Associated Press honorable mention All-America status, as did Xavier's women's basketball standouts Jennifer Phillips and Taru Tuukkanen; Massachusetts field hockey players Anke

Bruemmer and Zowie Tucker garnering second-team All-America laurels; Rhode Island men's soccer player Nicholas McCreath earning third-team All-America honors, as did Rams' baseball player Mike LaBarbera by the American Baseball Coaches Association; Kevin Kirkby of Saint Joseph's being named third-team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association; Molly Hueller of George Washington and Sarah Pollman of Massachusetts earning second- and third-team All-America honors, respectively, from the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association; and Fordham's Andrew Paolollo and Eric Wilson of St. Bonaventure being named to the Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America baseball team.

Atlantic 10 student-athletes excel in the classroom as well. The Atlantic 10 sponsors several academic awards programs, including Academic All-Conference teams in each of its sports and the Commissioner's Honor Roll, which honored an Atlantic 10 record 1,562 student-athletes with a 3.0 grade point average or better this past year. The league also cites a male and female Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and awards a pair of postgraduate scholarships to both male and female student-athletes who express a desire to continue their education.

Numerous Atlantic 10 student-athletes were recognized as Academic All-Americans in 2000-01, including first-team honorees R.J. Kazuba (men's soccer) of Dayton; Thomas Blankvoort (men's golf) of George Washington; and Kevin Kirkby (baseball) and Jim Reilly (baseball) of Saint Joseph's. In addition, La Salle had the highest grade point average of any women's basketball team in the nation.

The genesis of this tradition of success can be traced to March 2, 1975, when eight university representatives met in Harrisburg, PA, to discuss the formation of a new collegiate basketball association. A similar meeting was also held on May 23 of that year with the final formation of the Eastern Collegiate Basketball League announced on August 13, 1975. The NCAA granted allied affiliation status upon the ECBL on October 15, 1975 and granted the league an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament on June 17, 1976.

The ECBL began operation at the start of the 1976-77 season with Duquesne, George Washington, Massachusetts, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Villanova, and West Virginia as its charter members. Several changes happened quickly in the ECBL, the first coming in 1977-78 when the league changed its name to the Eastern Athletic Association - better known as the Eastern 8 - to reflect its changing mission. That year, the Eastern 8 became more than a basketball league as the men's sports of baseball, cross country, golf, swimming, and tennis were added to the championship schedule.

The next major change came in 1981 when the office of the commissioner was instituted. Leland Byrd, who had served as president and executive director of the league since its inception, as well as athletic director at West Virginia, was named the Conference's first commissioner and established the commissioner's office in Pittsburgh. Byrd guided the Eastern 8 through several membership changes as Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure, Saint Joseph's, and Temple replaced Pittsburgh and Villanova. After membership stabilized, the Eastern 8 transformed into the Atlantic 10 Conference with Byrd orchestrating the drive to make the league more broad-based as the women's sports of basketball, gymnastics, softball, tennis, and volleyball were added to the championship slate.

In May 1984, Byrd resigned as commissioner and was replaced by Charlie Theokas, who remained at the Atlantic 10 for 15 and a half months, bringing the league to national consciousness with his "Think Atlantic 10" campaign. On December 31, 1985, Theokas resigned to accept the athletic director's position at Temple and was replaced by Ron Bertovich, who officially assumed the commissioner's position in May 1986 after serving as interim commissioner following Theokas' departure. In eight years as commissioner, Bertovich expanded the Conference staff to better meet the growing needs of the membership and established the Atlantic 10 Television Network, which has developed into a major regional outlet and has won three Emmy Awards. In addition, he oversaw further membership changes as Xavier was added to the league while Penn State, Rutgers, and West Virginia left.

Furthermore, he continued the league's emphasis on broad-based programs as the Atlantic 10 expanded its championship list with the additions of women's cross country, field hockey, men's and women's soccer, women's swimming & diving, and men's and women's indoor track & field, as well as the reinstitution of men's swimming & diving. On April 13, 1994, Bertovich resigned his position to accept the job of vice president and general manager of Empire Sports Network in Buffalo.

On June 14, 1994, Linda Bruno was officially introduced as the Atlantic 10's fourth commissioner. As commissioner, Bruno has strengthened the Atlantic 10's membership with the additions of Dayton, Fordham, La Salle, and Richmond, thus assuring the Conference's future. Bruno also negotiated a pair of television deals with ESPN which provides greater exposure for the Atlantic 10's athletic programs. She relocated the league office to Philadelphia, placing it in the center of the Atlantic 10's geographic footprint. Under her leadership the Atlantic 10 has increased its championship schedule to 22 sports with the additions of women's rowing, men's and women's outdoor track & field, and women's lacrosse. Bruno also spearheaded the league's entrance into Division I football with the formation of the Atlantic 10 Football Conference in 1997.

The Atlantic 10 Conference will crown champions in 22 sports this season: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's golf, women's gymnastics, women's lacrosse, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field, women's rowing, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

THE LA SALLE BASKETBALL RADIO NETWORK

KALE BEERS - NETWORK COORDINATOR/PLAY-BY-PLAY

Kale Beers returns to the Tom Gola Arena for his sixth season to broadcast men's and women's basketball as well as to serve as the coordinator of the La Salle Basketball Radio Network (LRN) and the "Voice of Explorer Basketball".

A 1995 graduate of La Salle University (B.A. Communication), Beers enjoyed seven seasons in professional baseball. In those seven years, Beers had called games for teams in the Philadelphia Phillies, Cleveland Indians, Pittsburgh Pirates and Anaheim Angels minor league systems.

Beers learned the art and business of broadcasting rather swiftly as he created and formed the La Salle Basketball Radio Network from ground up just fifteen months after earning his degree from La Salle. In its five years of operation, the LRN has grown to broadcast nearly 40 men's and women's basketball games during the season and become a significant generator of income for the University in the nation's fourth largest media market.

Beers is also responsible for the athletic sponsorship program and broadcast relations as the Director of Corporate Sales/Broadcasting for La Salle Athletics.

Beers was born in Emmaus, PA and is a veteran of the United States Army where he served six years (two of active duty) as a Cavalry Scout.

STEVE DEGLER - COLOR COMMENTARY/PLAY-BY-PLAY

Steve Degler enters his fifth season as the color analyst on the La Salle Basketball Radio Network. Degler has also been the voice of the Reading Phillies for the past 10 seasons.

Along with his work with the R-Phillies, Degler has worked as a fill-in host of the pre- and post-game shows on the Philadelphia Phillies radio network. Degler has also worked for ten years as radio/TV broadcaster and public address announcer for football and basketball at Kutztown University.

Degler has been involved for 13 years as radio and TV broadcaster for high school and college soccer, football and basketball games in Berks, Lebanon and Schuylkill counties, calling numerous district and state tournament contests, including four state championship games.

A 1988 graduate of Kutztown University, with a Bachelor of Science in Telecommunications, he and his wife, Karen, and daughters Sarah and Hannah reside in Hamburg, PA. Degler also handles play-by-play duties for a selected number of LRN broadcasts.

TOM GOLA
1954 PLAYER OF THE YEAR

MICHAEL BROOKS
1980 PLAYER OF THE YEAR

LIONEL SIMMONS
1990 PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Tom Gola, plain and simple, put La Salle basketball on the map. Widely regarded as the premier college player of his time, Gola led the Explorers to the 1952 NIT and 1954 NCAA Championships. A scorer both inside and outside, he averaged 20.9 points and 19.0 rebounds in his four-year career. A three-time collegiate All-American, Gola played in the NBA with the Philadelphia and San Francisco Warriors and New York Knicks and was named All-Pro five times. Gola added to his La Salle glory as head coach of the 1968-69 Explorers who finished 23-1 and were the second ranked team in the nation.

A consensus All-American, Brooks is the school's 2nd all-time leading scorer and 21th on the NCAA career scoring list. He held the school mark for most points in a game with 51 in a triple overtime contest at Brigham Young on Dec. 15, 1979, until Kareem Townes scored 52 against Loyola (Ill.) on Feb. 4, 1995, at the Philadelphia Civic Center. A spectacular combination of strength and grace highlighted Brooks' play as did his intelligence on the court. In 1980, Brooks was named Captain of the United States Olympic Team and East Coast Conference Player of the Year. Brooks played professionally with the NBA's San Diego Clippers, in Europe, and in the United States Basketball League.

Simmons, the Explorers all-time leading scorer, continued the La Salle tradition of dominant players, winning every national Player of the Year award as an unanimous All-American in 1990. He is the 3rd leading scorer in NCAA history and the only player to score over 3,000 points (3,217) and pull down over 1,085 rebounds (1,429). Upon graduating, he also held the NCAA record for consecutive games scoring in double figures with 115. Simmons owns the La Salle record book as the career leader in eight categories. He also captained the 1989-90 Explorers, who set a single season La Salle record with 30 victories and whose 30-2 record was the best in Division I. Simmons retired from the NBA after seven seasons with the Sacramento Kings and now is involved in several business ventures in the Philadelphia/South Jersey area.

EXPLORERS WRAP UP GAME WITH 30-POINT
3RD PERIOD; 2 SCORING MARKS BROKEN

By Bob Vetrone

Of The Bulletin Sports Staff

Kansas City, Mo., March 20 — La Salle College, playing by far its greatest game of a long and successful season, roared to a 92-76 victory over Bradley tonight to bring Philadelphia its first NCAA basketball championship.

The Explorers, receiving sparkling performance from about a half dozen of its players, used a devastating 30-point third quarter to reach the highest pinnacle any local team has approached. Tom Gola, Charley Singley, Frank Blatcher, Fran O'Malley, Frank O'Hara — all took important parts in the triumph, which was turned into a runaway by that prolific third quarter.

In rolling to its 92-point total, La Salle broke the record for points in a championship game. The combined pointage of 168 also set a new record for the tourney final.

1952 NIT CHAMPIONS

GOLA, GREKIN MVPs AS LA SALLE TOPS DAYTON TO WIN NIT CHAMPIONSHIP

In the early days of post-season basketball tournaments - in the late 1930s through the middle '50s - the National Invitation Tournament was at least on a par with, and perhaps superior to, the still-emerging NCAA Tournament. So, when the La Salle Explorers romped through Seton Hall, St. John's, Duquesne and Dayton to capture the 1952 championship, it was a feat of national basketball importance.

La Salle, coached by future Hall of Famer Ken Loeffler, had entered the NIT as an unseeded team and had to get by Seton Hall's powerful Pirates, led by seven-footer Walter Dukes and an exceptional guard in Richie Regan. But La Salle freshman Tom Gola and junior Fred Lehle hit for 30 and 25 points respectively, with Lehle pouring in 20 in the first half in an 80-76 Explorer victory.

Gola had 19 rebounds and six assists and junior Norm Grekin grabbed 15 boards. In a game that was described as one of the best in the NIT's 14-year history, the margin was never more than four points, as a capacity crowd of 18,422 wildly cheered on both teams in New York's old Madison Square Garden.

In the quarter-finals, Grekin, playing his way toward a share of tournament MVP honors with Gola, tallied 17 points and had 16 rebounds in a 51-45 victory over local favorite St. John's. And Grekin again played a big role in the 59-46 romp over the Sihugo Green-led Duquesne Dukes, rated by many as the top team in the tournament. Grekin had 21 points and 10 rebounds, Gola contributed 14 rebounds and 10 points and sophomore Jackie Moore added 12 points and 11 rebounds.

Then came the championship game against a tall and talented Dayton Flyers team, and it was no contest. Led by Gola, Lehle and playmaking captain Buddy Donnelly, the Explorers built a 38-30 halftime lead, then wrapped up the title with a 37-34 second-half advantage to wrap it up, 75-64. Grekin, Gola and Moore were named to the All-Tournament team, and the Olympic Trials were just ahead.

At that time, the Olympic squad was picked from team trials rather than individuals as is done today. In those Trials, La Salle again defeated St. John's, 71-62, but bowed to Clyde Lovellette and the Kansas Jayhawks, 70-65, and fell before the Phillips Oilers, an AAU powerhouse.

Between the NIT and the Olympic Trials, the team, the school and the City of Philadelphia received notice from all around the country. And coach Loeffler had this praise for the team in an article that appeared in the La Salle Collegian:

"This was a new team, a young team, like a child in fact. It first had to walk. As any child would, it fell a few times. It gradually learned to walk, then to run. Against Seton Hall, it found it could jump as well as run."

And Ken could have added: "All the way to a national championship."

THE UNIVERSITY

La Salle University is a private, comprehensive, coeducational institution committed to academic excellence and individualized attention in a values-oriented, inter-faith educational community.

Consistently ranked among the nation's top schools by U.S. News & World Report, Barron's, Money magazine, and The New York Times, La Salle has evolved from a liberal arts college into a comprehensive university of increasing national prominence.

Established by the Christian Brothers in 1863, La Salle is one of the oldest independent Roman Catholic institutions in the nation. It traces its roots to the patron saint of teachers, John Baptist de La Salle, a priest and educational innovator who founded the Christian Brothers in 17th century France. For over 300 years, the order has been known for its dedicated teaching and devotion to students.

As one of seven Christian Brother colleges and universities in America, and 72 around the world, La Salle prepares students for careers, enhances professional capabilities, and promotes personal growth in the unique Lasallian tradition.

Starting out as a one-building academy in downtown Philadelphia, La Salle is now located on a picturesque 100-acre campus in Northwest Philadelphia - just six miles from the cultural, social and historic attractions of Center City. Two convenient satellite campus sites are located in Northeast Philadelphia and Newtown, Bucks County.

In an area increasingly dominated by large public institutions, La Salle's small class size and intimate campus provide the ideal environment for friendly student-teacher interaction and individualized attention.

With approximately 3,200 undergraduate and 1,500 graduate students, most classes average 20 students with a student-faculty ratio of 14-to-1. Day and evening faculty number some 400, and the University offers concentrations in close to 60 academic areas.

In addition to the undergraduate degree programs offered in the School of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Nursing, and Continuing Studies, La Salle offers 10 Master's degree programs and a Doctoral program that was introduced in 1998.

More recently, the University has launched a series of new undergraduate programs in a continuous effort to integrate the latest technology into the curricula. These include the E-Commerce Institute, ISBT (Integrated Science, Business and Technology), Speech-Language-Hearing Science, DArt (Digital Arts and Multimedia Design). A nationally-recognized Honors Program, praised by the National Collegiate Honors Council for being "a very special sort not available to larger, general universities," is available for La Salle's most gifted learners.

La Salle students come from more than 700 public and private schools from 25 states, mostly in the northeastern part of the United States, and from approximately 20 foreign countries. The University confers more than 1,100 degrees annually. Academically, La Salle's graduates have distinguished themselves in the nation's best graduate, law, and medical schools. And they boast an extraordinary record for winning Fulbright Fellowships and other prestigious postgraduate awards. Over the past 20 years, 96 percent of those students who were recommended by La Salle were offered entry into medical schools. And a national survey ranks La Salle in the top 4 percent among private undergraduate institutions whose graduates go on to earn Ph.Ds.

Among several recent on-campus developments is the $6.3 million renovation of the Hayman Center, home of La Salle's athletic department. This facility showcases the 4,000-seat Tom Gola basketball arena, a 1,700-seat Olympic-size swimming pool and diving area, three regulation-sized basketball courts, weight training and exercise areas, a sauna, squash courts, and a medical training area.

Having grown considerably in the last decade, La Salle looks forward to a future built on commitment to quality education, service to students, and overall excellence.

unique blend that incorporates strong academics as well as a diverse atmosphere in which to apply the knowledge that is attained from a La Salle education. The large market surroundings also provide a plethora of opportunities in the working world, the classroom and the community.

While touring the city of Philadelphia, you would have the chance to visit the Liberty Bell or Independence Hall. Along with the historic landmarks, you will also have the opportunity see many cultural buildings. Among the things that are close to campus, you could visit the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Franklin Institute, as well as the Academy of Music. Other sites to visit around the city include South Street, where there are a plethora of shops and entertaining venues. One could also view Boathouse Row while driving on the Schuylkill Expressway or West River Drive. Boathouse Row houses several area high school, college, and club crew teams.

The city is also home to four major professional sports franchises, the Philadelphia Phillies, Eagles, Flyers and 76ers. Among those four teams, they have some of the most exciting players in their respective leagues, including the NBA Most Valuable Player in Allen Iverson.

Boathouse Row in Philadelphia is located near the Schuylkill River, the home course for the Explorers crew.

WHY CHOOSE LA SALLE?

We could easily come up with hundreds of reasons why you might want to consider LaSalle. Still, there are some reasons that keep coming up when we ask our current students why they chose LaSalle.

Here's the top ten list:

10. The high achiever has competition, the underachiever has motivation and the average student has the attention of an interested faculty.
9. We're a Catholic, Christian Brothers university. (The Christian Brothers Order was founded to teach.)
8. We offer lots of internship and coop opportunities. (That's unusual for a largely liberal arts university.)
7. We're located in Philadelphia, one of the largest and most exciting cities in the nation.
6. Our graduates are very successful in finding placement in jobs and in top graduate schools (especially law and medicine).
5. The campus is scenic.
4. Our classes are very small, averaging about 20 students.
3. With an undergraduate enrollment of 3,200 and 39 majors to choose from, we're large enough to offer a wide variety of academic programs but small enough to offer the personal attention (especially on choosing a major) that many students want.
2. We care as much about your personal development as we do about your professional development.
1. The faculty is simply outstanding as teachers, mentors and friends.

When our students and alumni talk about La Salle, they use words like "challenging," "fun," "friendly" and "life-changing." As one stated, "La Salle makes the individual feel as though he or she has actually received full value for the money spent."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Academic Advising & Monitoring of Academic Progress

Academic counselors work closely with student-athletes from the time they arrive on campus until the time they graduate and leave the university. Academic counselors work closely with other university advisors to assist you in the areas of academic planning, goal setting, class schedule building, dropping and adding classes, choosing majors, and understanding degree requirements. They also help you understand La Salle and NCAA academic policies that affect your academic progress and your athletic eligibility.

Study Hall Program

Study Hall is a monitored and structured study environment where student-athletes work individually on their class assignments or with specific tutors. During study hall hours, student-athletes are not permitted to go to the computer lab or library. Each night at study hall, two staff members are present to answer any questions you may have or to assist you with any difficulties you may be encountering. At study hall, you can also participate in study skills seminars that are conducted during each semester. Study hall is required for all new student-athletes (this includes transfer students) and continuing students-athletes who have a cumulative grade point average below a 2.33. Student-Athletes are usually held accountable for two or three nights of study hall each week and are expected to attend on a consistent basis. Weekly attendance reports are promptly given to all head coaches.

Tutoring Program

The Tutoring Program is a major component of the Academic Support Services office. Tutors are typically third and fourth year students; while some are graduate students. A specific group of tutors is hired by the Athletic Department, while other tutors are utilized from other campus academic services (Writing Center, Math Lab, etc.). Tutors can help you with specific course content and/or specific study strategies that can improve your learning. Tutoring is available in virtually all core classes including mathematics, natural and physical sciences, social sciences, and the humanities. It is available to all student-athletes, in all sports, and is free of charge.

Educational Programming

Throughout the academic year, Academic Support Services will conduct and coordinate a variety of educational programs. These are in the form of seminars, guest speakers, workshops, town hall meetings, individual team meetings, specific age group sessions (freshmen, seniors, etc.), and department wide programs. Programming ideas are often suggested by student-athletes themselves or the student-athlete leadership group called ARC (Athlete Relations Council). Subjects that have been addressed include the following: alcohol education, sexual assault and responsibility, career development, nutrition, study skills, and time management.

Student-Athlete Orientation Meetings

At the beginning of every academic year, all student-athletes attend Student-Athlete Orientation meetings. Usually these meetings are done individually with each sports team. At these meetings student-athletes learn about La Salle University, the Athletic Department, and the Academic Support Services office. Additionally, student-athletes complete the necessary NCAA and La Salle athletic participation information and thoroughly review the Student-Athlete Handbook.

Instructor Communication

The staff in the Academic Support Services office communicates on a regular basis with university faculty and staff. The purpose of this communication is to monitor the academic performance of our student-athletes and to be alert to any academic concerns or difficulties they may be experiencing. Academic information obtained from this communication comes in the form of what is called Academic Progress Reports. These academic reports are completed twice each semester and are shared with you and your head coach.

Travel For Athletic Competition

The staff also communicates with faculty concerning travel due to athletic competitions. At the beginning of each semester each head coach provides our office with a team schedule and a travel schedule for the upcoming season. When an away

TEAMS SHINE IN CLASSROOM

Several Explorer teams have been honored over the last several years for their performances in the classroom.

The Women's Basketball team has consistently been among the nation's best in the classroom over the last five years. During this time period, the Explorers have finished in the top seven each year, including being the nation's best twice.

In the 2000-01 season, La Salle posted a 3.436 GPA, which ranked third in the nation. In the four years prior, they finished first, second, seventh, and first respectively.

Along with their accomplishments, the Men's and Women's Track and Cross Country teams, as well as the Men's and Women's Swim teams have been recognized by their respective coaches' associations.

The Track and Cross Country teams earned All-American status by virtue of their cumulative team GPA of over a 3.0, as given by the Cross Country Coaches Association of America.

The Swimming teams earned the same honors as given by the College Swimming Coaches Association.

contest is approaching, the student-athlete sees an advisor in the Academic Support Services office to obtain a Class Absence Form. Once the form is completed, the Academic Support Services office prepares office excuse letters for the student-athlete to provide to each instructor.

Behind all great Athletic Programs is a great Athletic Training Staff. At La Salle University, the goal of the Athletic Trainers is to return the athletes to activity not only quickly, but also safely.

The Explorers Athletic Department has three top-notched certified full-time Athletic Trainers as well as assistance from the NovaCare Rehabilitation group.

The Athletic Trainers are on staff to cover all of the Explorers home games and practices. They also travel with the more high-risk injury sports, which include Men's Basketball, Women's Basketball, Football, Softball, Lacrosse and Field Hockey.

La Salle's Athletic Trainers work with team physicians, student health, and the counseling center to help oversee the well being of all student-athletes.

The University is associated with the Albert Einstein Sports Medicine Program that provides La Salle with the team physicians. Physician clinics occur every Monday at Albert Einstein Hospital, which is up the street from the University, and on campus at the Hayman Center Training room on Thursday.

The La Salle University Athletic

Department established a partnership with NovaCare Physical Rehabilitation. NovaCare has become the "official provider" of rehabilitation for student-athletes at La Salle. All rehabilitation is performed in house by La Salle University staff and NovaCare Physical Therapists.

BILL GERZABEK

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDICINE

Bill Gerzabek is in his 13th year as Head Athletic Trainer. In this time, Bill has been at the helm of some major changes to the La Salle University Athletic Training Room.

Prior to coming to La Salle in 1988, Bill served as Assistant Athletic Trainer at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. for two years. This followed a Graduate Assistantship at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia, in affiliation with Old Dominion University where Bill earned a Master of Science degree in Education with a concentration in Athletic Training.

A native of Connecticut, Bill earned his Bachelor's degree from Central Connecticut State University in New Britain, Connecticut. Bill served as a student Athletic Trainer under his mentor Carl Krien.

In addition to an array of other related Athletic Training experience, Bill has also made his mark at the head of the classroom. There was an overwhelming enrollment for "Prevention and Care of Athletic Injuries", where Bill served as adjunct professor in his La Salle teaching debut in the spring of 1996. His class is offered every spring.

Gerzabek lent his expertise to the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colorado. There he served as a volunteer Athletic Trainer to the resident weightlifting athletes. He met and worked with Olympic athletes Wes Barnett and Tom Gough as well as Olympic hopeful Tara Nott. Other responsibilities included assisting in the coverage and treatment of boxing, men's gymnastics and the USA men's and women's volleyball junior and national teams.

UNIVERSITY & ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT PERSONNEL

Brother Michael J. McGinniss, FSC, Ph.D., became La Salle University's 28th president on July 1, 1999. Immediately prior to that, he was president of Christian Brothers University in Memphis, TN for five years.

A native Philadelphian, Brother McGinniss joined the Christian Brothers in 1965 and graduated Maxima Cum Laude from La Salle in 1970 with a degree in English. He obtained his Master's and Ph.D. in Theology from the University of Notre Dame.

From 1970 to 1974 he was a member of the English and Religion Departments at South Hills Catholic High School in Pittsburgh, Pa. While a graduate student at the University of Notre Dame, he taught undergraduate courses in the Theology Department and was an instructor in the residence hall training seminars and assistant rector of Grace Hall.

His first teaching experience at La Salle was as a visiting instructor in the Graduate Religion program in the summer of 1978. He was also an assistant professor at Washington Theological Union from 1979-84. From 1986 to 1990 he was a visiting instructor at Loyola University's Summer Institute of Pastoral Studies.

In 1984 Brother McGinniss joined the faculty at La Salle on a full-time basis, eventually reaching the rank of full professor in 1993. Recognized by the DeLaSalle Christian Brothers for his qualities as a leader, he attended La session internationale des études lasalliennes (a program of study of Lasallian spirituality) in Rome in 1991. He became Chair of La Salle's Religion Department that year and the following year he received the Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching. Also in 1992 he was appointed Vice President of La Salle University Corporation. In 1995 he became a member of La Salle's Board of Trustees.

In 1994 he became president of Christian Brothers University, in Memphis. Under his leadership, undergraduate enrollment and retention rates were increased; a Master's of Education program was established; the Athletic Department joined the NCAA Division II Gulf South Conference; new residence halls were constructed; enhancements were made to science labs and facilities; the school's engineering departments were re-accredited; an upgrade of information technology systems throughout the campus was implemented; and the Center for Global Enterprise was founded. He also played a key role in the school's 125th anniversary celebration.

His academic area of expertise is pastoral theology - which includes history and theology of ministry and methods and models of theological reflection; Roman Catholic and Protestant Ecclesiologies; social ethics; and Lasallian Spirituality. He is the author and editor of numerous articles and books in this area.

Brother McGinniss has served on numerous boards and civic groups, including: Member, Economic Club of Memphis; National Conference of Christians and Jews, Memphis Chapter; Memphis Brooks Museum of Art; The Memphis Catholic Diocesan Development Committee; Memphis in May Country Selection Committee; and Christian Brothers High School, Memphis, Tenn. He is a past member of the Ethics Committee of the Board at Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia, PA.

His professional memberships include Catholic Theological Society of America, American Academy of Religion, and College Theology Society.

Dr. Thomas Brennan has ushered in a new era in La Salle Athletics since his appointment as the school's fifth Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and Recreation on September 18, 1997. He guides the school's 23-sport Division I Athletic program.

"La Salle has a proud and respected tradition of intercollegiate competition and I am excited to lead the department into the next millennium," Brennan said. "You must have integrity in your program. You must have a program which emphasizes the educational mission of athletics. You must also strive for excellence in the athletic arena. I know that these are all important at La Salle and that is what attracted me."

Since coming to La Salle, Brennan has enhanced many areas within the Athletic Department, including the formation of the Explorer Club, a fundraising/booster organization, and the introduction of an active Corporate Partners/Athletic Sponsorship Program. Membership in the Explorer Club has more than doubled during his tenure. Corporate partnerships have been established with many local businesses and corporations. During his tenure, the Philadelphia Big 5 has been rejuvenated, the Tom Gola Arena has been dedicated, the Alumni Hall of Athletes' Program has been expanded and many other initiatives have been introduced in an effort to enhance the overall program.

Under Brennan's guidance, La Salle Athletics has enhanced its commitment to Youth Outreach and Community Service. La Salle was selected, by the NCAA, as one of only 20 schools to participate in a national program with the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization (Campus Pals). La Salle has also been recognized by the National Consortium for Academics and Sport for having one of the most active and expansive outreach programs in the country.

Dr. Brennan serves as a member of the Executive Committee for the Philadelphia Sports Congress, and as a member of the Board of Directors for the Big Brother and Big Sister Association of Philadelphia. He has served as Chair for the Atlantic 10 Conference Post-Graduate Scholarship Committee and the Television Committee, and as a member of the Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Committee, and the Student-Athlete Advisory Council. Dr. Brennan is also a member of the Executive Committee for the National Consortium for Academics and Sport.

Brennan was the Athletic Director at San Jose State University from 1990-97, moving the school from the Big West Conference to the Western Athletic Conference. During his administration, graduation rates for student-athletes more than doubled as did participation by women in intercollegiate athletics, as the university was recognized for Title IX compliance efforts by the Office of Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education. In addition, annual athletic contributions increased three-fold, while $6 million was raised for a new field house and administrative complex.

Prior to his tenure as the Athletic Director at San Jose State, Brennan was the Director of Athletics at Loyola College in Maryland from 1986-90. During that time, Brennan successfully moved Loyola from the Northeast Conference into the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference. The Greyhounds became national contenders in men's and women's lacrosse and men's soccer and competed for the NCAA Division I Championships in each of these sports. While at Loyola, Brennan was a member of the Board of Directors for the Maryland Special Olympics.

From 1980-86, Brennan worked at the University of New Mexico, first as Assistant Athletics Director and then Associate Athletics Director for Advancement. At the time of his departure, he oversaw the fundraising, media relations, sponsorship, marketing, sales and athletic alumni efforts.
